HOUSE DEVOTES

Six Bills Affecting Capital Are Passed by the Lower Body.

UP TO PRESIDENT TAFT

Five of the Measures Have Already Been Passed by the United States Senate.

At the first day in court which the House has granted to the Datrict at this season, six District tills, five of which already have been adopted by the Senation. Were passed yesterday without a division. The District field day is the direct result of a ruling recently promotinated by Chaffran Johnson, of the House District Committee, to the effect that, harring a point of order against such proceedings, his committee would meet on its regular meeting days in the future, whether a quorum was present or not. Following that ruling, nine merifisers of the committee met and reported out five of the bills passed in the House patterday.

The substitution of electrocution for hanging as punishment for first degree murder in the District may he expected as the result of yearenday's action, the Senate bill to this effect being among those called up and passed at the suggestion of Chaffran Johnson. This measure further provides that in capital cases the jury may find the accused the Judge to sentence without capital parishment.' In which event a sentence of tife imprisonment shall be imposed.

Minority Leader Mann wanted to knive death by electrocution in case substitute that met considered that question, he was of the spitch of the professor of the hill would apply only to convicts separate the measure.

Executive Head of "Trust" to Reply to Testimony of W. E. Corey.

FARRELL TO TALK, TOO

Former Head of Corporation Decl He Is Out of Sympathy with

New York, Jan. 2.—Elbert H. Gary, executive head of the United States Steel. Corporation, is to go on the stand in the government's and to dissolve the trust to refute Corey's sworm statements that Gary had personally participated in our more of the secret meeting of steel minuted for the steel of the steel Corporation, also will be called to the stand by the trust big array of lawyers. The date of their appearance has not been definitely steeled upon. They probably will be among the first witnesses introduced by the defense as soon as the government shall close its case. It was intimated to-day by Judge Jacob M. Dickinson, the government's chief counsel, that his side of the case may be brought to the cione within a week. Richard V. Lindabury, chief counsel for the trust, said that he was not yet prepared to state how much time would be required by the defense for the development of its testimony, though he hoped not more than a few weeks would be consumed.

weeks would be consumed.

Opposed to Suil.

To-lay's hearing before Special Examiner Browne was held in one of the large rooms that constitute the headquarters of the steel trust on the top floors of the Empire Building, Il Broadway. For the proceedings heretofore have been used by the government. Judge Gary, learning of this, tendered the use of a capacious and well-lighted room on the twentieth floor of the bome of the huge trust.

A delicate touch was made by Judge Dickmann to-day on the personal relations between former President Corey is and Judge Gary, obviously with the view of discrediting the rumors that Corey is taking advantage of his opportunity as a government witness to "get even" with Gary for supplanting him as preddent of the corporation with James A. Farril. The latter has been known in the parlance of steel trust factions as a "Carreggie mian." Instead of responding to the government's lawyers, however, he promptly declared be was wholly out of sympathy with the suit, and that at least a quarter of his personal torum still was invested in steel trust securities.

James S. Grasty, professor of geology at the University of Virginia succeeded Mr. Corey as a witness. He was called by the government as an expect on the amount and value of the Birmingham Iron Ore field. He said that there were at least six hundred million tens of commercial ore within easy access of the Birmingham plants, and that about four hundred millions of this was the projecty of the Tempessor Coul and Iron Company of the Tempessor Coul and Iron Company of the Tempessor Coul and Iron County of the Tempessor Coul and Iron County of the Tempessor Coul and Iron County to the Tempessor C

Berlin, Jan. 22.—Berlin critics are famous for their merciless sternness, and German playwrights are used to being flayed by them without a nurmur, so it created quite a sensation in literary circles here when the famous dramatist. Herrmann Sundermann, the other day asked the rollies to seize and confiscate the whole issue of a foremost dramatist magazine. "Die Schaubuchne" (The Stage), because it contained a severa advance criticism of his new play. "The Good Reputation." Under an old German law it is a penal offense to damage the prospects of a play by criticising it before it is produced.

PREPARED DENIAL DURING INTERVIEW

PURING INTERVIEW

Paris. Jan. 25—A very amusing story of M. Pasiteb, the Servian Prime Minister, is going the rounds of Paris. Some time ago a special correspondent of one of the Paris newspapers interviewed M. Pasiteh at his house in Helman and extremely interesting. The Prime Minister spoke of Austria, of the possibilities of a conflict, and of many other vital questions. Just before the journalist left, a woman came into the room, and M. Pasitch said, with tenderness. You do not know my wife, Heleone. I think. Allow me to present you.

The special correspondent, delighted at the interesting interview he had obtained, telegraphed it to his paper. It was promptly contradicted officially. It was promptly contradicted officially. It was the more easily contradicted because the correspondent had not refrained from mentioning the touching picture of the consubal bitss of M. Pasitch and his wife, Helene, and because Helene is not the name of Mrs. Pasitch. The carefusely dropped name was a little strategem of the premier in case diplomatic reasons should make it necessary to repudiate his conversation with the journalist.
